

An Innovative Prevention Planning Framework: Blending Multiple Strategies Together To Achieve Collective Impact

Digital Dialogue

An Integrated Prevention Approach:

Creating a Context for Collaboration and Collective Impact

Deborah Daro, Chapin Hall

Kendra Dunn, Colorado Office of Early Childhood

ChapinHall at the University of Chicago
Policy research that benefits children, families, and their communities

Why is This Approach Different?

- Assist states in identifying efficiencies by realigning current investments or better sharing resources.
- Identify a set of shared outcomes to better focus efforts and engage new partners.
- Identify a limited number of promising new interventions to complement current efforts.
- Create a planning tool kit to assist states in replicating the planning process at the community level.

Key Planning Components

- Identify core values – agree on elements you want reflected in all of your interventions and policies.
- Establish a core set of outcomes and related indicators – agree on a common way to assess progress at the individual and population levels.
- Identify high priority options – assist communities in selecting their most promising “best bet”.
- Specify implementation plans and learning opportunities – create ways for inter-agency/cross-community learning.

Key Values and Principles

- Implementation science – study how things work and what contributes or inhibits successful implementation.
- Data integration – share information on populations and services within and across agencies.
- Continuous quality improvement – raise the performance bar and use timely data to adjust practice.
- Participant voice – engage those you seek to help.
- Policy integration – never act alone if you can find a partner.

Draft Outcome Domains

- Child well-being and achievement
 - Maximize developmental potential of all children
- Parent/caregiver well-being and achievement
 - Provide parents the support they need to succeed
- Consistent, high quality caregiving
 - Insure all caregivers foster positive child development
- Safe, stable and supportive neighborhoods
 - Create a context of collective responsibility for children

Policy Forum Structure

- Interactive session designed to familiarize state leads with the overall planning process.
- Strengthen skills at:
 - Engaging key stakeholders in identifying and using common outcomes and related indicators in decision making.
 - Soliciting and utilizing parent input in the planning process.
 - Selecting “best bets” to achieve plan objectives.
 - Selecting implementation strategies and monitoring progress at state and community levels.

Continue the Conversation at the 20th NCCAN

POLICY FORUM

An Integrated Prevention Approach: Creating a Context for Collaboration and Collective Impact

Wednesday, August 31, 2016

1:30–5:00 p.m.

20th National Conference on Child Abuse and Neglect

www.2016nccan.com

